European and Asian Business Management
Study Program at the University of Zurich

WHO WE ARE

At the University of Zurich we offer unique advanced study programs that provide deep insights about Asian and European markets.

The programs Master of Advanced Studies in European and Asian Business Management MAS EABM, prepare students for the next stage of their professional career.

Our courses are the result of well-defined needs of our students and raising the importance of Asian markets in a globalised world.

OUR STUDENTS

- have a university degree (minimum Bachelor)
- have previous work experience
- are skilled researchers
- are internationally-minded
- speak English fluently (most of them speak one Asian language and some German, French or Italian)
- are eager to learn and start their next career challenge between April- June 2023 for 6-8 months.

THE PROPOSITION

You get one or several of our motivated students with the knowledge of cross-border business management in a European and Asian context and with strong intercultural competences.

Work permits are guaranteed in Switzerland as it is a mandatory part of the master program and we can also support you in the selection process.
